TO HARNESS THE BIG RIVER.

The first excursion of homeseekers for this season arrived in this city a week ago, and the results have been gratifying to the owners of real estate in the Brownsville country. Up to the present time the owners of land in the grandest garden on the earth have not attempted to sell much land on account of the tremendous amount of work to be accomplished in making the irrigation canals, that are absolutely necessary for the growing of crops in this valley. At this time the great irrigating plants are nearing completion, and the owners of the land are now ready to treat with homeseekers.

There is nothing to compare on this earth with the fertile lands of this wonderful valley—lands made by the overflow of the Rio Grande in countless ages past. And it is by the use of the same agency that made the land the treasure it contains will be wrested from its keeping.

Water here is the prime factor in the successful cultivation of the rich soils, and the Rio Grande has water enough to irrigate the whole valley.

Today the big river is sweeping past these valley lands and carrying its life-giving floods to the ocean.

Tomorrow the waters will be harnessed, as it were, to make the waste lands blossom and complete the work the Lord designed it to accomplish.

HE IS YOUNG YET

Kermit Roosevelt Could Not Stand The Admiring Gaze of the Girls.

Kermit Roosevelt, son of the President, who was making the long ride from Fort Leavenworth, Kan., to Fort Sheridan with the First Squadron of the Sixteenth U. S. Cavalry, abandoned the march at Joslyn, Ill., because he couldn't stand being petted by the women.

Kermit is at a hotel in Duluth preparing to go on a hunting trip, but the story was learned here from Lieutenant Philip Sheridan Jr., and Fitzhugh Lee Jr. to whom the President's son told his troubles.

Young Roosevelt joined the squadron at Fairfield, Ia., and stood the hardship of the march for seven days.

"All along the march," said Lieutenant Sheridan. "Kermit was lionized and great crowds would visit the camp to see him. They would not let him alone even at mess, and curious persons would pull back the flap of his tent while he was eating."

"Young girls would come from the villages near which we camped on the march to see him and he had great difficulty in avoiding them."

"The last straw came at Joslyn, while we were in camp there. Early one morning an enthusiastic woman invaded his tent while he was still in his cot and patted him on the cheek and called him a dear boy. Then he fled."

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.
